Note on data availability: Until 08 August 2026, only configurability was documented for the Getac V120 on robustbook.com. The manufacturer description on the product page had been removed because the imported raw data entry incorrectly contained the text of the Getac V110; no other verified raw data entry for the V120 was available. With the now-mirrored manufacturer datasheet (Getac, as at 06 August 2026), all eleven remaining core specification rows are populated.
